Contemporary Approaches to Middle School Physical Education

This workshop will introduce you to our latest resource, 'Learning In, Through and About Movement in Secondary Physical Education', by Shane Pill. Each participant will be provided with a FREE copy of the book. This new resource has been developed to support Middle School teachers to implement aspects of the Movement and Physical Activity strand of the Australian Curriculum Health Education and Physical Education from learning design through to assessment and moderation.

"The depth and breadth of information and activities supports students in promoting and understanding lifelong physical activity and underpins the knowledge and concepts required at senior school levels of study. "

Jac Stirrat. NTCET Consultant Health & PE. Senior Years Curriculum. NT Dept of Education

Craig Johncock (St John's Grammar) and Rick Baldock ACHPER (SA), will lead you through this workshop, during which you will be challenged to learn more about contemporary Physical Education and Sport pedagogies, while providing time for you to reflect on the implications with colleagues to enhance your teaching and learning with students.

The workshop will use a 'Backward by Design' approach by beginning with Achievement Standard 6 of the Australian Curriculum HPE Movement and Participation Strand for year 9 and 10.

We encourage two or more middle school educators from your school to attend the workshop together to enhance your learning and support the implementation of this new resource in your school.
