

Game Sense Seminar #2

Invasion Games

Developing a thematic curriculum for PE using invasion games.

This is the second of four ACHPER SA one-day workshops focusing on thematic curriculum for Physical Education using the four game categories (Bunker and Thorpe, 1982 Australian Sports Commission 1996).

The Game Sense approach aligns with the Australian Sports Commission's 'Playing for Life' philosophy. The second workshop in the series explores the Invasion Game category. A thematic approach for Physical Education is consistent with aspects of the AC: HPE Achievement Standards and the key ideas of a strengths based, educative focussed Physical Education curriculum promoting education in, through and about movement.

This Seminar will address the concepts of Principles of play (Eric Worthington, 1974) to design games that can be used as an educational tool to enhance learning. Designing games for a purpose will provide the educative architecture that can be used to construct a thematic curriculum for primary or secondary PE.
